UNHURT BY FALL OFF EADS BRIDGE

Horace G. Wilson, Ironworker, Plunges 90 Feet, and Swims Until He Is Rescued in the River.

Remarkable vitality and a cool head yeserday morning saved the life of Horace G Wilson, an ironworker, 26 years old, who by a misstep, plunged from Eads bridge into the ley waters of the Mississippi River, ninety feet below.

He was not only able to swim against the current until he was rescued, but was able to walk away from the City Hospital in a short time after he was received there. He will return to his work to-day The accident occurred at 7:40 o'clock Wilson, who lives at No. 7312 North Broadway, and is married, went to work early in the morning upon the network of cables under the floor of the bridge near the third pler, about 200 feet from the east shore.

He had been at work only a short time when, as he was hammering at a choked rivet hole, the hammer went into the hole Wilson tugged at the hammer and when It came suddenly out of the hole he los his balance and pitched forward. Reaching overhead, he seized a rod to Reaching overhead, he seized a rod to prevent himself from falling. His thumb was sprained. Suffering from the pain, he forgot his danger and, stepping carelessly upon the slippery ironwork, missed his footing and fell from the bridge.

After sinking many feet below the surface, Wilson rose and began to swim toward the middle of the river. He was apparently too much dazed to realize that he was near the east shore. Several hoats put out to rescue him and he was picked up by a skiff lowered from the ferryboat Charles Mulligan.

The tug Reliance picked up the skiff, which was about to sink on accunt of the water it had shipped while Wilson was being dragged over the side, and when the tug arrived at the west shore Wilson was sent to the City Hospital in an ambulance. An examination showed that Wilson, whose physical condition was such that the nervous shock did not affect him, was not injured in any way. After restoratives had been applied, he left the hospital and went to his home.

Utah Criminal Before Dying Confessed Crimes Done in St. Louis.

KILLING ON SIXTH STREET.

Says First Crime Was Committed at Middleton, Mo., Tells of Two Murders Near Hannibal.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 22.-Frank Rose, the wife murderer, was shot to death in the yard of the State Penitentlary here at 10:09 o'clock this morning. Death was instantaneous, four bullets odging in or very close to his heart.

Rose was strapped to the same little wooden chair in which Peter Mortensen met his fate a few months ago, Five prison guards, concealed behind a heavy blue curtain in the doorway of the black-smith shop, across the area, formed see executing squad. One of the rifles held a Rose went to his death chair with the same coolness that had marked his conduct since he surrendered to the police. In a confession made to his death watch a few hours before the execution, Rose recounted a number of crimes that he committed in Missouri, several of which ceurred in St. Louis, In a fight with three men on Sixth street Rose claims that he stabbed and killed one of them, and received a slash across the throat from one of the others. He escaped, and to avoid identification borrowed a pocket knife and pretended to cut his throat. He was cared for by the police, and was never suspicioned of the murder.

Upon reaching in his pocket for a cigarette one morning after a protracted de bauch Rose claims to have discovered a human hand, evidently that of a young woman. He did not know where it came from, or how it came to be in his pocket and although he watched the papers carefully he was unable to discover to whom the hand belonged.

"I met a galoot," said Rose, "in one night, who had a roll that took my eye. I slipped some chloral in his beer, and he was found by the police next morning down in the Dago section with a bad wound in his head. The police said he fell and fractured his skull. To satisfy my curiosity, I went to the morgue next day to see the fellow, and sure enough he was the sucker I doped."

Rose said that he traveled under the following allases: Bill Sly, William Cody, Full-Hand Jim, Tom Lang, William Har tigan and Bill Ross, In addition to his St. Louis crimes

Rose claims to have killed a man at Bowling Green and another at Rose's ranch, near Hannibal, Mo. Rose's first crime was committed at

K. C. S. CHANGES FULLY EXPLAINED.

Stated That George Gould Repeatedly Requested to Be Relieved From Duties of Vice President.

New York, April 22.-The following auhoritative statement has been issued concerning the recent meeting of the directors of the Kansas City Southern Railway Company

George J. Gould did not retire as vice president at the request of the Dutch or other stockholders. On the contrary, Mr. Gould, at the directors' meeting ago, expressed his desire to retire from the vice presidency, and in the course of the year repeated his wish to that effect, as he could not possibly give proper attention to the duties of the office, and it was solely upon his own insistence that he was not re-elected. The company will still have the benefit of his valuable cooperation and advice as a member of the Executive Committee.

"Max Pam has not retired as an official of the company. The president desiring to have that part of the legal department relating to the operation of the railroad in direct contact with him at Kansas City, the office of general counsel was abolished and the office of consulting counsel created. Mr. Pam was thereupon elected consulting counsel. There is no change in his relationship to the company except as aforesaid.

"Sieleken was not elected vice president of the Kansas City Southern Railway Congany, at the request of the Dutch helders of the securities, but upon the suggestion of Mr. Harriman.

"There is no controversy or conflict concerning the property between the present management and the holders of the voting trust certificates, whether Holanders or otherwise. No complaint or dispatisfaction has been expressed by anybody authorized to speak on behalf of the Dutch holders,

"The subject of making a supplemental bond issue at this time to acquire and pay for new extensions and equipment had leen under discussion for some time. The matter was fully investigated and considered, and at the meeting the president reported that the company was in a position to dispense with the making of any additional bond issue for the present, in which conclusion the directors unanimoosly concurred.

"The voting trust continues in force until Agiril, 180, and the voting trustees are: Louis Fitzgerald, John W. Gates, George J. Gould, E. H. Harriman, Otto H. Kahn, Herman Sielcken and James Stillman." operation and advice as a member of the Executive Committee.

tended mass meeting to-night a committee of five was appointed to wait on Fresident Ramsey of the Wabash, for the purpose of protesting against the company's decision to take off the freight and passenger trains on the Quincy, Clayton and Mount Sterling branch May 1. The sentment expressed at the meeting was in favor of withholding all possible freight and passenger business from the Wabash if the company insists on taking off the trains as announced. Quincy has always been the market for the people in the towns on the Mount Sterling branch, and the taking off of these trains would mean a severe blow to the business interests of the city. Men's Gray Worsted Suits, $8.00, At The Model Clothing Co., Seventh and Washington avenue. Read about them on page 2 of this paper. Herman Sielcken and James Stil CALLS FOR TRANSFT RECORDS.

BLOW AT OREGON DAY. Transcontinental Association Refuser

Bute Reduction on That Dute. Pertland, Ore., April 22.-The Transcon tirental Passenger Association, which is in session at Santa Barbara, Cal., dealt a Louis Fair, when the dates of sale of excursion tickets were fixed. The dates were so fixed that 1 cople from Oregon and the Northwest who wish to attend the Oregon Day proceedings are practically barred from the advantage of special rates. The only way in which they can get the benefit of special rates is to go to the Fair a month before Oregon Day and remain there during that time. The situation is this:

this:

The association, in fixing the dates of sale for the special excursion tickets, selected only three days a month. The dates decided upon in May are II, 12 and II. After the latter date there are no more dates of sale until June 18.

June 15 will be Oregon Day at the World's Fair, and, under the terms for the purchase of excursion tickets, people from the Northwest will be obliged to go to St. Louis three weeks in advance of Oregon Day to obtain advantage of the reduced rates.

MEMPHIS-COTTON BELT HEARING. Interstate Commerce Commission to Pass Upon Rate Question.

Washington, April 22.-By order issued to-day the Interstate Commerce Commission has instituted a proceeding of inquiry and investigation into the following matsion has instituted a proceeding of inquiry and investigation into the following matters:

Into the reasonableness and justice of rates on freight articles generally from Memphis, Tenn., to all points in Arkansas on the St. Louis Southwestern Railway as compared with rates to the same points from Little Rock and Pine Bluff, Ark. and also into the reasonableness and justice of rates on cotton from points in Arkansas on the St. Louis Southwestern Railway to Memphis, as compared with the cotton rates of that railway from such Arkansas points to St. Louis, Calro and other Eastern destinations. The commission has set these matters down for hearing at United States courtrooms in Memphis on May II.

The proceeding was commenced by the commission upon the request of the Memphis Freight Bureau and the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company. The order of the commission permits all persons, commercial bodies or common carriers interested in the proceeding to appear at the hearing and be heard.

TERRIFIES WOMEN Morton Jourdan, was summoned to appear. As he did not appear, the Grand Jury requested Judge McDonald to issue a subpoena duces tecum, which was done. The Gemand of the Grand Jury follows:

The Grand Jury, now in session, respectfully represents that in the investigation of alleged invenies in the Coroner's office of city of St. Louis it became necessary and material that this body should see and examine certain vouchers signed by certain employes of the Coroner's office.

Thereupon on the eleventh day of April, 1994, the Grand Jury requested your Honor to Grider that a subpoena duces tecum issue on James Adkins, secretary and treasurer of the St. Louis Transit Company, for certain vouchers and other records therein described, and particularly those signed as by one John J. Manton.

The evidence before the Grand Jury is to the effect that subsequent to the issuance of the above decus tecum all vouchers in possession of the St. Louis Transit Company signed by John J. Manton were placed in the hands of Morton Jourdan.

The Grand Jury further states that after a considerable delay it has succeeded in having brought before it all of the above-named records and vouchers signed by John J. Manton, except two, and evidence is that those two were last seen in the hands of Morton Jourdon, a description of which said two vouchers is as follows:

the Advice of a Friend.

"I was going into an unnatural decline," says Mrs. Charles Lavigne of No. 1317 Third avenue, Detroit, Mich., "and my health was seriously low when I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They cured me.

"I was weak and thin, nervous and without appetito, took cold easily and was afraid of consumption. I could not sleep, I was always tired and worn out, my color all went away and I felt miserable.

"Good dectors treated me but failed to do me any good and I was discouraged about ever getting better until a friend told me of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I began to take them and kept on till I had used three boxes.

"By that time I was an entirely different berson. The nervousness had all gone. I could eat and sleep, I gained in weight and felt strong and well. My friends began to remark on the color in my cheeks and I told them Dr. Williams' Rink Pills had done it and had restored me to health. That was several years ago, but from that day to this I have retained my health and strength."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are of inestimable value to women when they are disturbed by fears of physical ills that make their lives wretched. They also restore to health men, women and children who are thin, pale, nervous and depressed. They embody Dr. Williams' wonderful discovery and have cured stubborn cases of locomotor ataxis, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions and all forms of weakness in either male or female.
